SUMMARY OF THE REASONS FOR DECISION:

The magazine entitled Private Sex 15 is classified as:
Objectionable except if the availability of the publication is restricted to persons who have attained the age of 18 years.

The magazine mainly consists of high resolution photographs explicitly depicting sexual activity and nudity. It also contains a limited amount of text, some of which is sexually explicit and offensive. The magazine is intended for an adult male readership with its primary purpose being the sexual arousal of the reader.

The magazine contains some degrading, dehumanising and demeaning elements in its presentation of women. The magazine is likely to be injurious to the public good unless its availability is restricted to an adult audience. This is because of the explicit treatment of matters of sex as well as the degrading, dehumanising and demeaning elements in some of the presentation of this sexual content. The provisions of the New Zealand Bill of Rights Act 1990 have been taken into account in determining this classification. This classification represents the minimum interference with freedom of expression consistent with Parliament's intention to prevent likely injury to the public good.
